SUMMER 2019

Teen Summer Camps

Would you like for your teen to get out into the community, have fun with his peers, and further develop his social skills all at the same time? Wynns Family Psychology is pleased to offer an advanced social skills summer camp for teenagers! This week-long, activity-based camp will provide teens with the opportunity to learn and practice social skills in “real time.” Using a combination of office-based interpersonal group therapy combined with community-based social activities (bowling, lunch out, outdoor activities, etc.), this camp will help your teen improve life skills and build self-esteem!

Topics for this group include:

- Respecting others and being treated with respect
- Dealing with bullying (both in real life and online)
- How to handle being teased and left out
- Handling rumors and gossip
- Dealing with cliques
- Battling peer pressure and learning how to make the right choices
- Feeling good about yourself and improving your mood
- Overcoming worried thoughts
- Using self-control and anger management
- Problem solving and conflict resolution skills
- Moving from acquaintances to close friendships
- Socializing and hanging out with peers
- How to feel like you belong vs. being the outsider
- Navigating dating relationships
- Developing life skills and strategies, knowing your strengths, and admitting your weaknesses
- Promoting positive life skills like good sleep habits, hygiene, and proper self-care
- Preparing for living independently

Parent Testimonial “I just wanted to say how amazed I’ve been with your social skills summer camp, and the immediate results I’ve seen in E. Really, I wasn’t sure what to expect since we’d never done this type of class before, but she’s been super excited after each session. I’ve seen a real improvement in her manners, her ability to handle frustrating situations without losing her cool, and with accepting ‘no’ for an answer. With the dramatic improvement I’ve seen in her coping skills, I will do whatever it takes to keep her in social skills classes this fall. This is truly an investment that is showing immediate and drastic results!”
